Landor, the poet, says "We are what suns and winds, and waters make us;" but suns will scorch, winds will roughen, and waters will not remove the injurious effects of the other two upon the lovely complexion of the fairer sex. For ages chemists have tried to distill an elixir of beauty but they have failed, and it was left to modern times to find a cosmetic which would remove every speck and blemish, and leave a soft and pearly loveliness upon the roughest skin. Gouard's Oriental cream does this, and while so perfectly harmless that spring water is not more so, it has a magic influence upon the complexion which cannot be over estimated or believed until realized.

There was a good audience at Castle Park theatre last evening to witness the first production of the Lorne Elwyn Co. and the good things of the play were cheered enthusiastically. The Lorne Elwyn Co. is evenly balanced and of more than usual excellence. Miss Gladys Gray was particularly pleasing in her simplicity and prettiness. Mr. Elwyn, already well-known to Barre, was effective in the leading role. The specialties were above the ordinary. Holmes and Holmes, musical artists, got music out of everything in a manner to bring down the house. Taken all in all the play was one of the best of its kind ever produced. Tonight "The Fatal Likeness" will be put on. Curtain goes up at 8.10 o'clock.
